WELCOME

London's Air Ambulance welcomes you to our team of Student Leaders, representing and promoting London's Air Ambulance and its work across London. In order to become a Student Leader, you must complete the following project booklet to document your fundraising activities and evidence your leadership skills.

What are leadership skills?

There are many kinds of leader and many different leadership skills. You may want to think about leaders who you admire, perhaps the captain or manager of your favourite sports team or leaders in your school or local community. You may already be demonstrating leadership skills in your school, or you may have undertaken this challenge to lead for the very first time. The skills that we hope you will develop are:

Teamwork – Your ability to work with others as part of a team

Organisation – Your ability to organise yourself and others by planning for success

Resilience – Your ability to bounce back when things go wrong

Bravery – Your ability to face challenges and try to overcome them

Accountability – Your ability to take responsibility for making things happen

Communication – Your ability to communicate to others your ideas and messages

Reflection – Your ability to think about what you have learned and how you and your ideas can be improved

Evidencing Your Skills

Complete the following pages when planning your London's Air Ambulance Week. There are sections for researching, planning and reflecting on your week, as well as on your own leadership skills. Once your work is complete, get it signed by your London's Air Ambulance Week Coordinator at your school before it can be submitted to us.

Part 3. London's Air Ambulance Week Diary

Use this page to plan and reflect on your London's Air Ambulance Week. Use each row to explain what you did each day. You do not have to be running an event each day, but you could include other details including preparations and your feelings about the experience of running the week.
